Levy of tax during the car festival of the Sri Venugopala Swami temple at Devanahalli.

FROM

The Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District

Letter No. 74 Dated 10th October 1906.

Z One Gopalachar of Devanahalli petitioned this Office complaining against the Amildar of the Devanahalli Taluk, that high taxes have been imposed, contrary to mamul, on the shops opened during the car festival of the Sri Venugopala Swami temple at Devanahalli. The petition was forwarded to the Dy: Commissioner, Bangalore District,

Y for report. He, in reply, stated that it was usual for many years past to levy ~~the tax~~ fees as per marginally noted rates on temporary shops ~~brought~~ during the car festival under the orders of the then Deputy Commissioner in the year 1890, that did not appear to cause any hardship to the people resorting thereto and that the amount so collected was credited to the temple funds. He further stated that the grievances set forth in the petition ~~read above~~ were insignificant. No change seems now necessary.

The Deputy Commissioner was ~~further~~ thereupon requested to furnish information as to whether the Crown (Kireeta) stated to have been newly prepared was intended for the deity and if so whether its preparation was sanctioned by Government and at what cost. Enquiry was also made as to what amount, if any, was still due to the Contractor for its preparation ~~should also be stated~~ and ~~also the~~ what amount was available at the credit of the Institution. In reply, he reports that no amount is due to the Contractor, that Govt in their Proceedings No 585 D 21st March 1893 sanctioned a Sum of Rs 200/- for the purpose and that a Sum of Rs 1895-14-0 is available at the credit of the temple.

Sir,

With reference to your Official memo No. 3878 dated 20. April 1905 forwarding for report petition from Gopalachar in re the levy of high taxes on the shops temporarily opened during the car festival of Sri Venugopalaswami temple at Devarkalli, I have the honor to forward herewith the records ending with yadi No. 300 dated 4 October 1905 from the Asst. Commissioner in charge of the Talak enclosing the detailed report of the Amildar on the matter.

2. I agree with the Assistant Commissioner in thinking that the Amildar's action was perfectly right and I think that the petitioner's grievances are quite imaginary.

3. In his report the divisional Asstt. Commissioner raises the question of the legality of the levy of these taxes and as the shops are kept in the public street and not on land belonging to the temple, it seems to me that if any taxes are levied, the municipality rather than the temple is entitled to the amount. On the other hand, it might be said that it is only the festival that brings these temporary shops into existence and that therefore the temple is entitled to derive some benefit from them. Further, the tax is being levied for a number of years past and it does not appear that it is causing any hardship to people.

4. I therefore solicit orders as to the levy of the tax in future.

Sir,

With reference to your docket No — 2778 dated 30 March 1905, calling for further details regarding the collection of taxes during the Jatra of Sri Venugopal Swami temple at Devanhalli, I have the honor to state that the records sanctioning the collection of taxes are not forthcoming. But from the extracts of the registers, it is found that the rates proposed by the Amildar were sanctioned by the then Dy. Commissioner in order No 933 dated 30 January, 1890, which has been in force for the last 15 or 16 years. From the collection statement in the year 1888 which is enclosed in the record marked E.1, it is found that the marginally noted rates have been levied.

Shop Tax Dekkin Kadle Vhari	0	4	0
Sweet meat shops	1	0	0
Betel Leaf	0	0	6
Shops held on Kharij grounds	0	2	0
25 w Co. x 8
Flower shop x	0	1	0

The annual collections in the Jatras vary from Rs 4 to 15-4-0. and they are credited to Temple funds and no amount is spent for conservancy, as that work is done by the municipality.

The vernacular papers received with the above are resubmitted.
